15h15-16h30 - Lawyers in Backsliding Democracy

Scott Cummins

Professor of Legal Ethics at the UCLA School of Law, California and Fulbright-Schuman Distinguished Chair at the European University Institute, Italy

Discussion :

Muriel Rouyer, Professeure de Science Politique

Gaëtan Cliquennois, Directeur de recherche cnrs

What is the role of lawyers in democratic decline: the degradation of democratic institutions and practices by autocratic leaders using law rather than violence. The central aim is to set an agenda and outline an approach to studying the professional paradox at the center of backsliding: why and how lawyers attack the rule of law
